Things to Know:

The Monastery has certain customs that must be followed, below are a list of some common practices, frequently asked questions, and general information about the Monastery.

- Little Portion is A Hermitage Monastery, which means there are cloistered or off limit areas. Please respect the Brothers and Sisters and stay out of those areas.
- Little Portion Hermitage observes Grand and Sacred Silences. During these times, visitors are expected to remain silent unless it necessary to speak. Silence ends after the table reading at lunch. Please do not hesitate to break silence to ask questions if you have them during these times.
- Because it is a sacred space, modesty must be maintained by all visitors. This means, not wearing “muscle” or “cut-off” shirts. All shirts must have sleeves. Please also refrain from wearing shirts with offensive, inappropriate or suggestive logos. They also ask that no shorts be worn around the grounds.
- Wednesday and Friday are fasting days according to the BSC Rule. This means the meals will be simpler and typically meatless on these days. It is understood that visitors may not be used to this and so snacks, and other food will be provided on these days if needed. You are welcome to bring your own snacks.
- The monastery is an alcohol and drug free area. Please do not bring any of these items on retreat with you. This includes any devices for vaping.
- The monastery is home to consecrated men, consecrated women, and families. This is a demonstration of the community’s charism of integration. Please be respectful of all the people who call Little Portion home.

- Work will be done throughout the day and will be a combination of farm work, cleaning and help in the bakery. If at any point you feel ill or like you need a break, you may take one. Simply notify the person supervising you.
- The week is a retreat and will have plenty of time for prayer. You will be given an hour for personal prayer, taken at different times during the day, an hour for lectio, and all the common or liturgical prayer times with the Brothers and Sisters (Morning, Midday, Evening Prayers, and Mass).
- Most nights will have a time of recreation in the evenings. This time is spent typically playing board games, cards, going on hikes, or talking in the hermitages or common center.
- The monastery can accommodate most dietary restrictions, if they are informed beforehand.
Please do not be shy.
- The monastery is built into some rough earth and has been known to have many sharp rocks in what appears to be soft ground. Therefore, shoes or sandals must be worn at all times.
- All visitors under 18 must always be accompanied and supervised by an adult.
- Often times, people are worried about what the Brothers and Sisters are going to feed visitors. The food is always delightful. In the past, the monastics have served homemade pizza, baked chicken, various homemade soups with fresh vegetables from the garden, and many more tasty and healthy meals. This year our foundress expressed a desire to order in pizza for an extra little “party”.
- Cell Phone use at Little Portion will be limited to mornings and evenings when we are not working to help us to truly retreat from the world to listen for God’s voice. The monastery, because of its location, also has poor cell phone service for most providers. If you need to reach your child, please feel free to call the monastery’s landline at 877-504-9865. Simply ask for Chad, and I will promptly find your child. The phone is in the common center and will not be accessible before 5:00 AM and after 10:00 PM. (Please also note the monastery is in Central Time).
- The monastic rhythm is slower and more deliberate than what we see around us living in the world. This shows itself in the pace of prayers, liturgy, work style, and speech. Please be sure to be respectful and match their pace and tone.
- Because the monastery’s location is so remote, please be sure to bring a flashlight with you in the mornings and evenings. If you do not know the paths, they can become very dangerous to walk back to the hermitage where we will be staying.
- It is also a good idea to be aware of your surroundings at all times. There is lots of wildlife in the remote location of the monastery in the Ozark Mountains. People have tripped on some of the smaller animals or been startled by creatures living in the taller grass, mainly the monastic pets.
